

CHINA

AGENDA

Basic facts about China

The historical timeline of Chinese dynasties

China's scenic spots and must-try cuisine

PRESENTER

Asiru 阿斯如

大家好

Dà jiā hǎo

Hello, everyone

BASIC FACTS

China spans approximately 5,250 km from east to west and 5,500 km from north to south.

Its land border is around 20,000 km long, while its shoreline is approximately 14,000 km long.

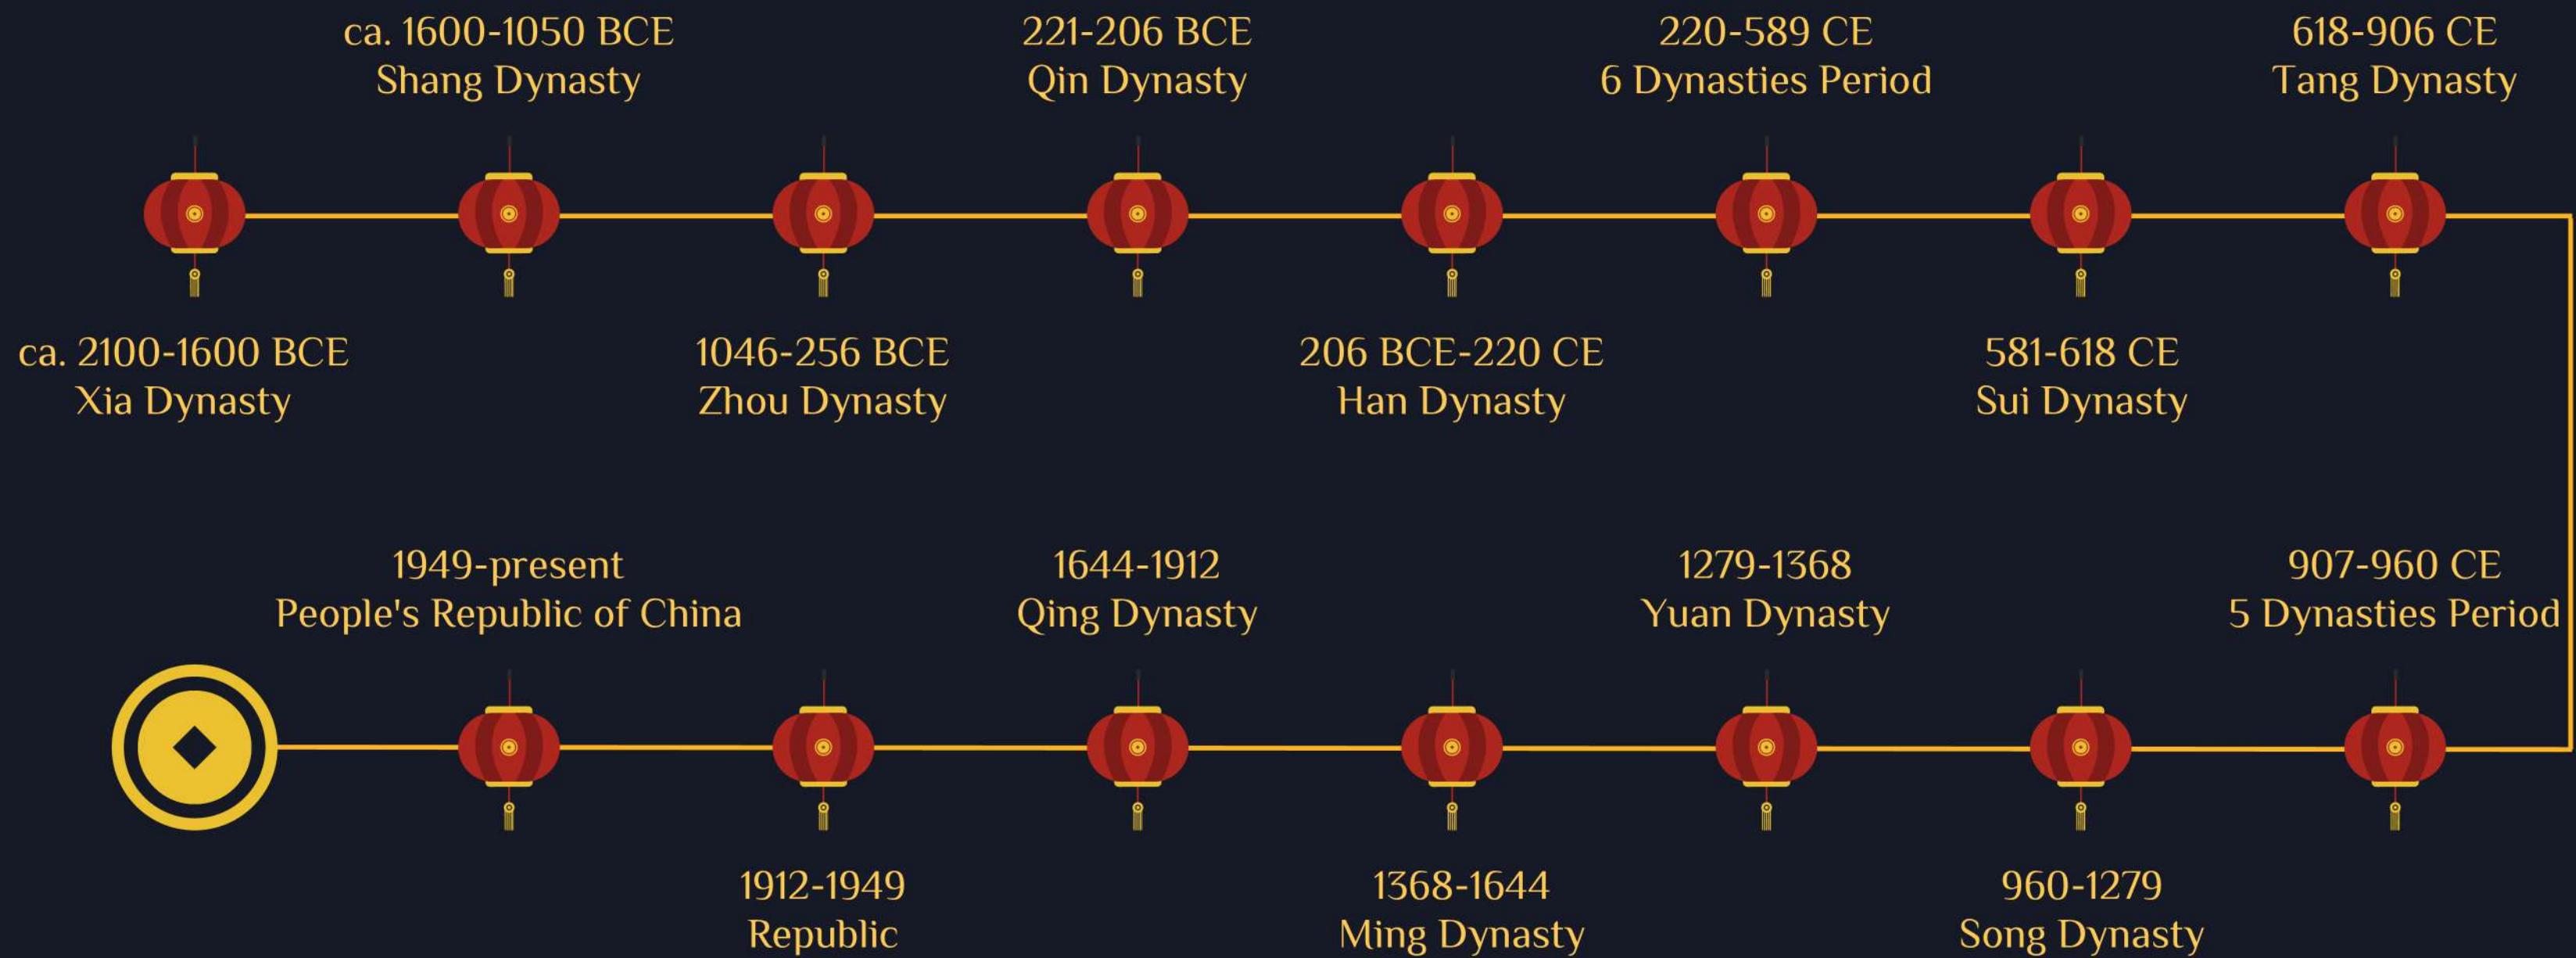

China has the world's biggest temperature difference between its northern and southern borders, from the desert in the northwest to the tropical monsoon in the southeast.

It has the biggest population of any country in the world and is the largest country in Asia. Almost entirely encompassing the East Asian landmass.

China's longevity and resilience are unparalleled among nations. With over 4,000 years of recorded history, China is one of the few countries that also flourished economically and culturally during the earliest stages of world civilization.

THE DYNASTIES

where to go?

HISTORICAL SCENIC SPOTS

The Forbidden City

The Forbidden City, also known as the Imperial Palace, is located in the heart of Beijing and is a must-see for any traveler to China.

The Great Wall

The Great Wall is a group of defensive structures built along the northern borders of ancient Chinese states and Imperial China.

The Summer Palace

The Summer Palace is a large collection of lakes, gardens, and palaces. It was an imperial garden during the Qing dynasty, but currently it stores national historical materials.

NATURAL SCENIC SPOTS

Yangtze River

Yangtze River is China's longest and most important river and the world's third longest after the Amazon and the Nile.

West Lake

Hangzhou West Lake's beauty has inspired poets, painters, and landscape designers throughout Chinese history.

Zhangjiajie National Park

Zhangjiajie National Park is in the Wulingyuan Scenic Area in the central-eastern part of China. This area is known for its beautiful rock formations.

what to eat?

MUST-TRY DISHES

Peking Roasted Duck

Peking Roasted Duck is a well-known dish from Beijing that is regarded to be one of China's national meals.

Chinese Hot Pot

Chinese Hot Pot is an interactive meal in which diners sit around a simmering pot of soup with raw meat, fish, veggies, and tofu in thin slices for rapid cooking.

Dim Sum

Dim sum is a traditional Chinese dish made up of small plates of dumplings and other snacks. It is often served with tea.

谢谢你

Xiè xiè nín

Thank you